Prince William County, Dumfries, Virginia-

Non-profit organization 'Advocates For Abused and Abandoned Pets' (A3P) announces the opening of its new 1800 square foot community facility.

A3P President Lynda Streeper says "We are excited to open our doors this month and plan to offer community outreach, pet adoptions, low or no cost microchipping events, pet food assistance, dog training, owner education and more to Prince William County and our neighboring counties."

A3P began as a foster based animal rescue organization in 2018, led by co-founders Streeper and Sherry Turner. Since inception they have envisioned a brick and mortar facility where rescued cats and dogs can be housed and adopted to forever homes or be reunited with their families when possible. Their goal, to be a guidepost in the community for lost or abandoned pets, to be a resource in support of animal welfare, and assisting families who love their pets to keep their pets, is realized with the opening of their dream, the flagship Humane Society of Northern Virginia (HSNV).

HSNV/A3P is 100% volunteer run. Interested in volunteering or donating?
Please email or call!

HSNV hours of operation are currently by appointment only due to COVID.
